

Prior to the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law, we used to receive at least 3-5 phone calls per night- interrupting family time. We now maybe receive only 1 call per week at best. NOBODY has any desire to be bothered with telephone solicitations at home. If banks want to gain business, they need to continue to send correspondence through the mail. I would definitely NOT do business with an organization that called me at home.